URGES AN INVESTIGATION

Judge Stout Charges Grand Jury to Investigate Alleged Election Frauds.

CIRCUIT COURT CONVENES.

March Term Begins and a Busy Session Promises to Be the Result.

Referring to the address of Hon. J. Campbell Cantrill here last Monday in which he charged that Judge Robert L. Stout had discriminated against other counties in this district regarding such cases here, Judge Robert L. Stout at the convening of the March court yesterday morning instructed the grand jury to investigate the charges of Mr. Cantrill that frauds had been perpetrated in this county, and Cantrill will in all probability be summoned to appear before the Bourbon grand jury when the investigation begins.

Judge Stout convened court yesterday morning at 10 o'clock arriving here from Versailles and following the hour for motion, embodied the above in his charge to the jury.

By reason of his being detained in the Federal Court at Frankfort Col. R. B. Franklin was absent and the Commonwealth will be represented by County Attorney George Batterton during his absence. Sheriff A. S. Thompson and his deputies, W. F. Talbott, J. O. Marshall and Ernest Martin were administered the oath.

The call from the panel for service on the grand jury resulted in the selection of W. E. Cook, B. F. Adcock, Clarence Kenney, E. H. Blake, W. E. Board, E. E. Wood, Wm. Endicott, Benj. Sled, Clarence Wright, J. T. Judy, Lee Gravens and R. L. Wilson. Clarence Kenney was designated as foreman of the body.

Judge Stout in his charge to the jury referred to the violations of the law in this community, as being reduced to a minimum due in a great measure to the efficiency of previous grand juries. The county of Bourbon, he said, was well known for the good order and observance of the law, which prevailed, but withal there were criminals within the confines of the county and that there were a number of cases which would be called to their notice.

He urged the grand jury to act speedily with the lawless element, fairly and impartially that justice should take its course. He called the attention of the jury to the fact that misdemeanors often lead to crimes of a more serious nature, and if the grand juries would exercise searching investigations and bring the minor offenders to justice, it would have the effect of lessening the more serious offenses.

Judge Stout referred to the violations of the liquor laws and stated to the jury that any infraction of the law governing the sale of liquor brought to their notice should be rigidly investigated and that a rumor had been brought to his attention of a condition of this character existing in Millersburg, where local option is in effect. He called attention to the violations of the gaming laws and the offense of carrying concealed weapons.

In the course of his charges to the grand jury Judge Stout stated that the fact had been called to his attention through the press of a condition which was said to have existed in Bourbon county regarding the alleged infractions of election laws, which was brought out in a speech delivered in the court house Monday of last week by J. Campbell Cantrill, of Scott in which it was stated that the court had insisted upon the investigation of election frauds in the counties under the jurisdiction of Judge Stout other than Bourbon, which had been overlooked. Judge Stout said that if such condition

EATS WHAT HE LIKES AFTER TAKING FREE SAMPLE

It will be welcome news to dyspeptics to learn of a remedy that, in the opinion of thousands, is an absolute cure for indigestion and all forms of stomach trouble, and, better still, it is guaranteed to do so. The remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

We all know the value of pure pepsin in indigestion, and add to this some exceptional laxative ingredients and you have a truly wonderful remedy. Mr. T. W. Worthy of Forsythe, Ga., got to the point where he could not even eat or digest vegetables and after many years of seeking he found the cure in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mr. Rudy Kasper of Moline, Ill., was in the same bad predicament with his stomach, took Syrup Pepsin and is now cured.

Hundreds of others would gladly testify.

It is a guaranteed cure for indigestion, constipation, biliousness, headaches, gas on the stomach and similar complaints. A bottle can be had at any drug store for fifty cents or a dollar, but if you wish to make a test of it first, send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will supply a free sample bottle, sent direct to your address. You will soon admit that you have found something to replace salts, cathartics, breath perfumes and other temporary reliefs. Syrup Pepsin will cure you permanently.

For the free sample address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 402 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

"Protecting" the Children.

Nothing in the history of American tariff making has so thoroughly demonstrated the fallacy of the high protection principle as the testimony of the Lawrence, Mass., mill strikers.

In the same room where Carnegie and Schwab told how they had juggled millions, the Rules committee of the House heard fathers, mothers and children tell how whole families were forced to live on $5 and $6 a week paid by the highly protected Woollen Trust. The witnesses told how they were forced to work ten hours a day; how they had to use a sort of molasses' as a substitute for butter; how children had to go into the mills at an early stage in order to keep the family from actual starvation, and how the constant demand of the mill owners was for more and more speed and less and less pay.

In the committee room sat some of the mill children, fresh from the mills, and a mere glance at them told more than spoken or written volumes could tell. All had pinched faces. All were poorly dressed, some of them having only a cheap sweater in lieu of a coat or overcoat. Most of them had dull expressionless faces, in which there was no trace of color or animation. All of them, moreover, were more or less deaf, because of their work amid the fearful clatter of the mill machinery, so that at times the committee members almost had to shout to make themselves heard. All the children looked worn and old, as though they had been speeded up beyond the limit of endurance.

These children revealed, as nothing else could reveal, that both they and the American people are being cheated by Schedule K. They both stood as living proof that the manufacturers, after once getting the privilege of levying a heavy tax on woollen goods, are not willing to divide their enormous profits with the workers in the woollen industry. Under Schedule K the people are being taxed for the sole benefit of a few millionaire woollen trust magnates, and not for the benefit of the workers in the woollen industry.

Now that you know the truth Mr. and Mrs. Reader what are you going to do about it. If you do not know just what action to take to make your feeling in the matter effective, here is a suggestion: You can vote and work against the party that framed Schedule K, and for the party that stands pledged to reduce the tariff on woollens almost one half.

Roosevelt Would Dodge Tariff.

There is every indication that former resident Roosevelt intends to dodge the tariff issue. In a recent statement from his headquarters it was declared that he would "rest his case on the issues he raised at Columbus." In that speech he ignored the tariff completely. Just how Mr. Roosevelt proposes to relieve the people from paying tribute to the tariff trusts on practically everything they buy is a mystery for which he so far has offered no explanation. Heretofore Col. Roosevelt has been a staunch Aldrich, Penrose, Smoot man on the tariff, and since their viewpoint is not popular just now, Mr. Roosevelt evidently has decided it would be politic to keep his usual silence on the tariff issue.

The Philosophy of Mr. Micawber.

"My other piece of advice, Copperfield," said Mr. Micawber, "you know. Annual income, twenty pounds; annual expenditure, nineteen six; result, happiness. Annual income, twenty pounds; annual expenditure, twenty pounds ought and six; result, misery. The blossom is blighted, the leaf is withered, the god of day goes down upon the dreary scene and—and, in short, you are forever floored. As I am!"—Dickens' "David Copperfield."

A FAIR OFFER.

Your Money Back if You're Not Satisfied.

We pay for all the medicine used during the trial, if our remedy fails to completely relieve you of constipation. We take all the risk. You are not obligated to us in any way whatever, if you accept our offer. That's a mighty broad statement, but we mean every word of it. Could anything be more fair for you?

A most scientific, common sense treatment is Rexall Orderlies, which are eaten like candy. Their active principal is a recent scientific discovery that is odorless, colorless and tasteless; very pronounced, yet gentle and pleasant in action, and particularly agreeable in every way. They do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, flatulence, griping or any inconvenience whatever. Rexall Orderlies are particularly good for children, aged and delicate persons.

If you suffer from chronic or habitual constipation or the associate or dependent chronic ailments, we urge you to try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Remember you can get them in Paris only at our store, 12 tablets 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, G. S. Varden & Son.

Tinkering With the Calendar.

Our poor old calendar, which has served its purpose for nearly 2,000 years, with some slight modifications, continues to be altogether unsatisfactory to some learned men.

The demand for a change is neither widespread nor lusty. Even if the calendar leaves much to be desired, civilization as a whole is quite willing to put up with its defects rather than risk the confusion and chaos that would certainly come with any alteration. But these practical considerations do not influence everybody, or otherwise there would be on foot at the present time a movement to amend the accepted method of reckoning the months and days of the year.

There have been many suggestions as to the nature of the contemplated reform, the reformers themselves being by no means agreed as to what plan should be followed. The most acceptable suggestion seems to be that of adding another month, redistributing the days of the present month, so that each month should contain exactly twenty-eight days, and then providing an annual "no day" and a quadrennial "leap day" in order that the reformed calendar would keep pace with the sun.

Advantages may be seen in these proposals, but they will be more apparent to the theorist than to the practical man. Those who advocate setting forward the clocks in summer so as to gain more daylight for playtime may perhaps be won over by the arguments of the calendar reformers. But on this proposition the average person is a "standpatter," quite content to let well enough alone.

Are the Fly and Mosquito Dangerous?

The fly, with spongy feet, collects the invisible germs of diseases, spreads them over our food and poisons us with typhoid and cholera. The mosquito with its bite injects into our veins malaria and yellow fever. The bacteria of consumption, or grip, are everywhere present for us to breathe into our lungs. The blood which flows through our veins and arteries is our protection. It should contain healthy red and white blood corpuscles—capable of warding off these disease germs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood medicine and alternative made entirely without alcohol, a pure glyceric extract of bloodroot, golden seal, Oregon grape root, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, which has enjoyed a good reputation for over forty years. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's influence—the blood is bathed in the tonic which gives life to the blood—the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which has accumulated during the winter.

M. MAGUIRE, Esq.

"About forty years ago while in Newark, New Jersey, I had chills and fever," writes Mr. MAGUIRE, of National Military Home, Kansas. "I went to Kansas City and in the spring of 1877 the chills and fever returned. Doctors and everything I tried failed to do me good. Finally I saw Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery advertised. I took one bottle of it and the chills vanished. In about a year afterward I felt them coming back so I got another bottle and have never had any symptoms of fever or ague since. That is all of twenty years ago, for I had the chills about twelve years before I started to take 'Golden Medical Discovery'."

TEMPERAMENT IS ALL RIGHT

Quality the World Seems Ever Willing to Condone, but Beware of Temper.

Of the prima donna who throweth a dish of spaghetti at her butler the world saith: "She hath the artistic temperament." And of the washer-woman who scaldeth her husband with a pot of bean soup the husband's relatives saith: "She hath a devilish temper."

Cultivate temperament if thou wilt, but beware of temper. The rich man, in a burst of temper, bursteth a blood vessel and droppeth dead. The poor man getteth hot in the collar, and the collar, being celluloid, igniteth and burneth him to death. While angry at the woman he loveth, a man marryeth a woman he doth not love. And, behold, it costeth him half his fortune to regain his temper—and his freedom.

Yet temper hath its uses. It giveth a man courage to do that which he lacketh the nerve to perpetrate in cold blood. And it serveth as an admirable excuse. If he saith: "Pardon me, I have such an ungovernable temper," he is forgiven, as if he were a lunatic and not responsible.

Temper maketh Johnny to go into tantrums. And, behold, his mother announceth proudly: "Johnny is such a high-strung child. So much temperament, don't you know." Which remark Johnny often overheareth, and, being wiser than thou wouldst expect of such a mother, he stringeth her some more and himself still higher, until father steppeth in with a shingle paddle and breaketh the string.

Temper maketh madam to snap at the hand of her husband when it petteth her. And hubby, saying: "She is so nervous," putteth on a glove that his hand may not be lacerated, and caresseth her more tenderly than ever.

Temperament, like temper, is greatly overworked as an excuse. The man who defraudeth the barber and doth his best to keep the clothescleaner and presser from earning a living, pleadeth in extenuation the poetic temperament. And the one who keepeth irregular hours and worse company, and whose shirt bosom feeleth the imprint of a rouged cheek more often than the touch of a laundress' hand, attributeth his delinquencies to the Bohemian temperament. The supposed possession of a literary temperament hath led many a woman to take a course in the literature of the Italian renaissance when the needeth far worse a course of treatment by a manicurist, a modiste and a hairdresser. Verily, yea, verily, a sweet temper is more to be desired than a sweetheart, and is easier to keep—Terrell Love Holliday, in Fuck.

This Happened on Mars.

Allen—Hello, Duncan, old man! How're things?

Duncan—Pretty good, pretty good. And with you?

Allen—Can't complain particularly. Get a little short of cash sometimes—business is growing fast and I have to pretty near pawn my watch on occasions to keep going. You know how it is; prosperity is sometimes actually a drag on your pocketbook. That's a preliminary to asking you if you've $10 loose that you can let me have until next week Thursday. Got to get the wife a little present for her birthday, and haven't a cent to do it with.

Duncan—Why, sure. More, if you want. And never mind about paying me Thursday; wait until I want some money and come to you.

Allen—Nix. Thursday goes and ten is all. Thanks. So long.

Duncan (Thursday)—Morning, Allen. Great weather.

Allen—All to the good. You're looking fine. Say, here's that ten. Much obliged. Nothing like having friends to help a man once in a while.

Duncan—Oh, you needn't have hurried. I'd clean forgotten about this ten.

Allen—Well, I don't forget the money I owe or what's owed me. Thanks again for your loan. S'long.—Exchange.

Curious White Island.

What is perhaps the most extraordinary island in the world is that which lies thirty miles to the northeast of New Zealand. White Island is an enormous mass of rock nearly three miles in circumference, rising 900 feet above the sea, and is perpetually enveloped in dark clouds that are visible for nearly 100 miles. This island consists almost entirely of sulphur, with a small percentage of gypsum. Some years ago an attempt was made to float a company to work the sulphur, which is of high quality, but sufficient capital was not subscribed. The export of sulphur from White Island is therefore still very small. In the interior is a lake fully fifty acres in extent, the water of which has a temperature of 110 degrees Fahrenheit, and it is strongly impregnated with acids. On one side of this lake are craters from which steam escapes with great force and noise. This steam and the vapor from the lake form the dark clouds that envelop the island.

Explained.

"I am sorry to see you here again," said the judge.

"You're not half as sorry as I am, judge," said the prisoner.

"Bad company, my man, as I told you before, is sure to bring you back," said the judge.

"Yes, judge," said the prisoner. "But I can't help myself. I tried to avoid this vulgar cop, but he just regularly thrust himself upon me."—Harper's Weekly.

DANDYISM SERVED HIM WELL

Unwilling to Go to the Guillotine Without His Boots, Condemned Man Cheated Death.

In the French Revolution a feuilletonist named Schlaberndorf, who possessed considerable ability as a writer, by heartily espousing the cause of the Girondists in all that emanated from his pen rendered himself obnoxious to Robespierre, and at the dictation of that fierce leader was incarcerated. When the death cart one morning came to the prison for its load of those that were that day to be butchered, Schlaberndorf's name was on the list of the condemned. The jailer informed him that such was the case, and the writer dressed himself for his last ride very nonchalantly and—he was extremely fastidious as to his personal appearance—with great care. His boots, however, he could not find. Here, there, everywhere, assisted by his jailer, he looked for them to no avail.

"I am quite willing to be executed," said he to the jailer, after their fruitless search, "but really I should be ashamed to go to the guillotine without my boots. Nor do I wish to detain this execution party," he added, smiling grimly. "Will it make any difference if my execution is deferred until tomorrow? By that time I shall probably succeed in finding my boots."

"I don't know that it will matter particularly when you are guillotined," responded the functionary, between whom and Schlaberndorf there had existed a sort of friendship. "Suppose we call it tomorrow, then?"

"All right," and the jailer allowed Schlaberndorf to remain, not unwillingly, as owing to his universal good humor he was especially liked by all the jail attendants.

The following morning when the cart drew up before the prison door for its batch of victims Schlaberndorf, dressed in his best, including the boots that had been found, stood waiting the summons of the jailer to take his place therein. Meantime, however, a new jailer had taken the place of the old one, the latter himself having suddenly been displaced by reason of suspected disloyalty to the revolutionists, and Schlaberndorf's name was not called that morning. Nor was it called the next morning, nor the morning after that; nor, indeed, ever again. It was believed by all outside of his friends in the jail that he had perished on the morning originally set for him. He remained in prison until the sway of Robespierre had ended. Then he regained his liberty, as did the rest of those prisoners whose heads had not fallen beneath the blood-stained ax.

Hidden Women of Persia.

Should the women of Persia ever get a vote, they will doubtless see to it that the lot of their sex is considerably improved, for at the present time they are regarded as non-entities. A husband in Persia never speaks of his wife to his acquaintances, and, if obliged to mention her, it is by some other term than wife, as "mother of my son," or "my house." She must not exist for anyone but her husband and from all others she must be hidden—non-existing. For this reason when the harems of governors or very high personages pass through the streets of Persia the men whom they meet either turn their backs or slip down a by-street or into some convenient doorway.

On passing a European, if sure that none of her co-religionists see her, a woman, particularly if she be young and good looking, will often raise her veil, from under which a pair of dark eyes follow the stranger with a curious gaze.

Maidens wishing to get married visit the tomb of some sacred woman. There are many such tombs. Marriages are contracted very early. Sometimes, owing to family reasons, one hears of a youth of 15 or 16 married to a girl much older. The marriage for a girl is fixed at $9.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Honest Election.

Much of the grim humor one hears among practical politicians has to do with these incorruptibles who owe their positions to corruption. A case in point is that of a member of the supreme court of a western state, who began his career by running for congress. The story was told to me by one of the workers who secured his election.

"One day the candidate met me," said my informant, to whom I had been introduced by a practical politician, as he took me into his confidence and began to talk as one briber might to another, "and asked me how things were going in a certain district."

"Fine," I replied. "You will have a good majority there."

"I am not surprised," he said enthusiastically. "When I was speaking there I made the best speech that I made in the whole campaign."

The worker nudged me as he said: "It cost us just $7,000 to win that particular district for him, and he thought his speech did it."—The Forum.

True.

"Now, Johnny," said the teacher after she had explained the meaning of the word, "I wish you would write a sentence containing defeat."

After a struggle which lasted for about twenty minutes Johnny announced that he was ready to be heard.

"Please read your composition," the teacher directed.

"When you git shoes dat's too tite," Johnny read, "it's hard on de feet."

The Men Who Succeed

as heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success today demands health. To all is to fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak run-down, half alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. E. Allen, Sylvania, Ga. "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders, and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. 50c at Oberdorfer's.

What We Never Forget

according to science, are the things associated with our early home life, such as Bucklen's Arnica Salve, that mother or grandmother used to cure our burns, boils, scalds, sores, skin eruptions, cuts, sprains or bruises. Forty years of cures prove its merit. Unrivalled for piles, corns or cold sores. Only 25c at Oberdorfer's.

Many Driven From Home.

Every year in many parts the country thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery—is to cure yourself at home. Stay right there with your friends and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. Its help in coughs, colds, grip, croup, whooping cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Oberdorfer.

If You Eat You Need "Digestit"

The New Relief For Indigestion

It has been stated that more than eighty million people in the United States are victims of some form of indigestion. The American people do not take time enough to eat. The result is stomach distress, gas, belching, indigestion and dyspepsia.

"Digestit" is the new relief—it has been found a certain quick and permanent remedy. Thousands of people have found relief from its use. Their own statements on file in our office are proof. You can try it for yourself without any risk—if it fails to give you absolute satisfaction your money will be returned. "Digestit" is a little tablet easy to swallow and absolutely harmless. It relieves indigestion almost instantly, stops food fermentation, prevents distress after eating and cures dyspepsia. You need it even though you are not sick—it aids digestion and gives you all the nourishment from your food—50c. Ask at G. S. Varden & Son's.

Selz Fine Shoes For Men.

You hear a good deal now-a-days about "guaranteed" merchandise; especially Shoes.

Sometimes it's a guarantee that the shoes are made of good leather, with a lot of detail about the way they're made. Selz shoes are guaranteed to be satisfactory to you. What do you care what the shoes are made of if they're not satisfactory to you?

Sometimes it's a guarantee that the shoes shall wear a certain length of time; Selz shoes are guaranteed to be satisfactory to you. What difference does it make how long they last, if they're not satisfactory? The longer dissatisfaction lasts the worse off you are.

Selz shoes are guaranteed to be satisfactory; and that means your satisfaction, not ours or Selz. It means good leather of course; poor leather wouldn't be satisfactory. It means long service, of course; a shoe that wears out too soon isn't satisfactory. It means correct style and good fit; you wouldn't be satisfied with anything less.

The Selz Guarantee

The name SELZ stamped on the sole of a shoe is a guarantee of absolute satisfaction. Remember, your dealer is authorized to see that you get absolute satisfaction from every pair of shoes bearing the mark—

Largest Makers of Good Shoes in the World.

Bourbon Man Wins Laurels.

To R. M. Talbott, a young Bourbon county man, has, according to cabled reports from Peking Saturday night, fallen the laurels of being the American hero of the bloody campaign of mutiny now being waged in that city. The story of his heroism is told in a cablegram from Peking, which follows in part:

"R. M. Talbott, a young American employee in the customs service, went alone at midnight riding nearly five miles to the Bureau of Printing and Engraving to relieve the anxiety of several American families there.

"A shell falling into the compound occupied by the American guard at the legation caused anxiety lest this was the signal for a general attack. Mr. Russell therefore refused to send detachments after the Americans at a distance until morning. Talbott first ventured among the looting soldiers and ascertained that they were not attacking foreigners.

existed here it had not been called to his notice, but that the report should be investigated without regard for the station of those who might be drawn into the investigation, and if the evidence was sufficient to return an indictment they should do so without the least hesitancy.

He stated to the jury if there was one of their number who thought he could not do the duty which was imposed upon him by oath, he should state the case before the body retired to begin its deliberations, and which would result in his discharge from the service. The jury then retired to begin its arduous labors.

During the morning session resolution in respect to Judge Russell Mann, passed by the Bourbon Bar Association were presented by Attorney Wm. Grannan and ordered to be made of record.

Judge Stout appointed Attorney C. A. McMillan Master Commissioner of the Bourbon Circuit Court to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Judge Russell Mann. His bond, with J. T. Hinton, Buckner Woodford, J. W. Davis and W. H. McMillan a surety, was approved by the court.

This morning the Commonwealth docket will be taken up.

MATRIMONIAL.

A message which was received Saturday by Mrs. Richard Butler, announcing the death of her brother, Mr. Joseph Innes, which occurred Saturday night in Phoenix, Arizona. At the time of his death his mother, Mrs. Carrie Innes Fisher, of this city, was at his bedside.

Mr. Innes, who was aged about 23 years, has been in declining health for several years and went West with the hope of securing relief. He has made several trips to his old home and on his last visit which was about a year ago, he showed some improvement. Two weeks ago his mother received notice of his serious illness and left immediately for his bedside. She will accompany the remains home.

The body is expected will arrive in this city tonight on the 10:40 L. & N. train and in that event the funeral will probably be held from the residence of Mrs. Richard Butler on High street Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Elder J. T. Sharrard. The burial will take place in the Hildreth burying ground near Cane Ridge.

The pallbearers will be Richard Butler, E. B. Hedges, Arthur Galbraith, J. H. Roseberry, Asa Jewell and W. H. Harris.

Mrs. B. F. Remington Dies Suddenly.

The community was shocked Sunday evening when the announcement was made of the sudden death of Mrs. B. F. Remington which occurred about 5:30 o'clock. Mrs. Remington was in apparently good health and had spent a happy day Sunday with her husband and children, preparing a birthday dinner for her son, Mr. Frank Remington, and enjoyed the occasion with those present.

Shortly after five o'clock she stepped out of the house for a few minutes. Not returning immediately the anxiety of the household was aroused and upon investigation she was found lying in the yard gasping for breath. She was carried into the house where she expired instantly and before medical aid could be summoned.

Mrs. Remington, before marriage, was Miss Mary Soister, of Lexington, and in June of 1856 was united in marriage to Mr. B. F. Remington. For several years following their marriage they resided in Cynthia, moving to Paris in 1869. Had Mrs. Remington lived until the fourteenth of April she would have been seventy-four years.

She was one of the most prominent women of Bourbon county, and was highly regarded by all who knew her. Being of a kindly disposition she acquired the friendship of everyone with whom she came in contact, all of whom spoke of her in the highest terms and who will mourn her sudden death.

Mrs. Remington was a member of the Christian church professing faith at an early age. During the past few years of her life she has been very reserved, spending all of her time in her home ministering to her family and reforming kindly acts toward her neighbors. Although advanced in years she appeared to be in the best of health and none of her family knew of her suffering from any serious ailment.

In her death the community loses one of its most lovable women and the husband and children a dutiful wife and kind and loving mother. In this their dark hour of bereavement, we extend to them our deepest and most heartfelt sympathy.

Besides her husband she is survived by four sons and four daughters. They are William Remington, editor of the Paris Democrat; Ed. Remington, of St. Louis; Fraizer Remington, of Spokane, Wash.; Frank Remington, of Paris; Mrs. William Howard and Mrs. J. P. Mann, of Richmond; Mrs. Mamie Parrish, of Lexington, and Mrs. Alice Fisher, of Carlisle.

The funeral will be held from her late residence on Houston avenue this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Elder J. T. Sharrard. The pallbearers will be J. W. Davis, Dr. Wm. Kamey, J. M. Flanagan, Prof. G. W. Chapman, E. B. January, Dr. F. L. Lapsley, Custis Talbott and W. C. Dojson.

Girl's Team Adds Another Victory.

The undefeated girls' basket ball team of the Paris High School annexed another victory at the High School gymnasium Saturday night when they defeated the Collegiate Institute team of Corbin by the overwhelming score of 40 to 6. They clearly outclassed their opponents at every point and at no time during the contest did they extend themselves. Miss Rummans, the fast guard on the local team was the stellar performer of the evening and during the contest threw twelve field goals. The visitors were apparently very weak on defense and accuracy and at no time during the two periods were the local girls in danger of defeat. During the second half Miss Taul of the Flanagan team, suffered a severe injury by a fall and was compelled to retire from the game. It was first thought her hip had been dislocated but the nature of the injury was no greater than a severe bruise, which, however, is sufficient to keep her out of the game for some time. The line-ups follow:

Paris—Misses Heller, Chambers, guards; Hayden center; Taul, Slicer and Rummans, forwards.
Corbin—Misses Larue, Sowell and Ritter, guards; Lacy, center; Butcher and Sheet, forwards.

Field goals—Butcher, 3; Heller, 4. Field goals—Sheet, 1; Hayden, 2; Taul, 3; Rummans, 12.

Referee—Mr. Jordan, of Corbin; umpire—Miss Wallace, of Paris.

Wednesday evening the boys' team will meet the Richmond High School team at the High School gymnasium and Friday evening the girls will go to Richmond for a game and will meet Corbin again in that city Saturday night.

Mountain Lions Are In Jail.

Andy McGee, Chas. Sturgin, Arthur Houston and Gano Gambol, all giving East Bernstadt, Ky., as their place of residence, were arrested Saturday night by Patrolman Fred Link on Eighth street, upon complaint of several people who had passed in that neighborhood of the disorderly quartette who were using the most profane language and flourishing revolvers. Patrolman Link succeeded in landing all of the men with the exception of Gambol who made his escape from the officer, but was later taken into custody at the infirmary station. All of the men carried heavy revolvers with the exception of Sturgin and in police court yesterday he was arraigned on a charge of disorderly conduct and fined $7.50, while each of his three companions were given a fine of $50 and costs and a jail sentence of ten days for carrying concealed weapons.

Cantrill Declared Nominee.

After hearing argument in the Cantrill-Schoberth primary contest Judge Nunn, of the Court of Appeals, Saturday afternoon refused to further restrain the Seventh Congressional District Committee from proceeding to declare Congressman Campbell Cantrill the Democratic nominee to succeed himself, Harry Schoberth having failed to put up his entrance fee in the race.

By this action of the court the primary for March 16 is called off, and Cantrill will go on the ballot as the Democratic nominee.

Judge Nunn wrote the following brief opinion:

"The most of the questions raised on this motion are merely political, and this court has no jurisdiction of them. The statute, Section 1563, Ky. Statutes, requiring the members of the committee to take the oath does not have the effect to render their acts void. The motion to dissolve the injunction is sustained. Chief Justice Hobson and Judges Carroll, Settle and Lassing concur in this conclusion."

The District Committee met immediately following the decision in the office of Attorney General Garnett and declared Cantrill the nominee.

Judge Sam M. Wilson, of Lexington, presented the case for the Schoberth side, and Judge O'Rear, of Frankfort, for Cantrill.

The following dispatch from Frankfort yesterday says:

"Although Congressman Campbell Cantrill, of Georgetown, was awarded the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Seventh district Saturday his right to the nomination may be questioned again.

"Before Judge Nunn had handed down opinion of the Appellate Court holding that the call for the primary March 16 as not invalidated because the district committeemen were not sworn before calling the primary, the House of Representatives had passed the bill of Senator Prichard redistricting the State into 11 Congressional districts and adding four counties to the Seventh district.

"The new counties are Clark, Powell, Estill and Lee. The chairman of the Democratic committee in these counties did not have the opportunity to participate in the meeting in which the primary was called.

"Representative Harry Schoberth, of Versailles, opponent of Cantrill, has been advised by several of the leading attorneys in this district that the action of the Legislature invalidates the call for the primary, and another siege in the courts is the prospect for Congressman Cantrill."

The World in Cincinnati.

There will be numerous special days during the four weeks that "The World in Cincinnati" Exposition will be open in Music Hall, Cincinnati. Chief among these are the Denominational Days for the churches. A special day will be set aside for each of the largest religious denominations co-operating with the Exposition. The days which have been settled upon are:

March 14—United Brethren Day.
March 19—Episcopalian Day.
March 21—Presbyterian Day.
March 22—Lutheran Day.
March 26—Methodist Day.
March 26—Disciples of Christ Day.
The dates for Baptist, Evangelical and other days have not yet been selected.

The arrangements for an appropriate observance of these days, which are expected to attract many visitors belonging to each particular denomination, are in hands of committees composed of laymen and ministers.

Special days for young peoples societies, a foreign missionary day, a home missionary day, a German day and special State days for the states of Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio, have also been decided upon, but the arrangements have not yet been completed and the dates not yet selected.

All the Saturdays beginning with March 16 will be called children's days, and under a special plan children of Cincinnati and vicinity, and in fact any large number of children from Sunday schools or day schools, accompanied by adults, will be admitted between nine and twelve o'clock in the morning for five cents each, if notice is given several days in advance.

Newspaper Plant Burned.

Fire thought to have originated from defective overhead wiring almost completely destroyed the plant of the Winchester Democrat, semi-weekly, Saturday morning at 1 o'clock. The stock in the job printing shop connected with the newspaper was almost totally destroyed, as was also the type setting machine, type and other equipment in the office. The loss is estimated at $3,000, covered by insurance, but it is not thought the owners will be able to get out an edition of their paper for about two weeks. The fire gained considerable headway before the fire department arrived, and only a small portion of the contents were saved.

Negro Thieves Arrested.

Bess Gilkey, colored, and his brother, Martin Gilkey are in jail awaiting trial on a charge of burglary. The two negroes on Thursday night entered the store of Bruce Holladay and after rifling the cash register carried away a number of articles which the police believe they have secreted near their home in Ruckerville.

An entrance was made to the store of Mr. Holladay from the rear, the negroes passing through the rear yards of the buildings occupied by the Western Union Telegraph Co., Dr. Wm. Kenney, Mrs. M. Parker and Mrs. Mary Paton.

Bess Gilkey, who has been employed at the store for about three years, and who failed to put in his appearance Friday was suspected of committing the burglary. A warrant was issued for his arrest, and Sunday morning about 3 o'clock he was taken into custody by Patrolman Link and McKenney, as he was coming from his home in Ruckerville.

After being questioned by the police he confessed to having robbed the store and implicated his brother, who was arrested yesterday by Patrolman Link and lodged in jail.

The negroes secured the sum of $6.40 from the cash drawer and it is believed made off with a large quantity of provisions.

—Miss Ruth Morgan, of Nashville, Tenn., late of Paris, was subjected to a third operation a few days ago, which has given some relief, and she is considered improving with strong hopes for her ultimate recovery.

—Mrs. Withers Davis entertained with a beautiful party Saturday afternoon at her home on Pleasant street to announce the engagement of her sister-in-law, Miss Katherine Davis, and Mr. Henry Craig, of Georgetown.

The announcement came as a pleasant surprise to the friends of Miss Davis, who is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Davis, of this city.

The guests at the party were received in the parlor, which was decorated with tulips, carnations and plants. In the receiving line were Mrs. Davis, the hostess; Miss Davis, the honor guest; Miss Eran Watson, Miss Virginia Moore, Miss Mary Frances Brown, Miss Katherine Headley, all of Lexington, and Miss Elizabeth Steele, of Paris.

In the dining room where the guests were served with dainty refreshments the circular table was covered with a handsome lace piece, in the center of which was a basket of Killarney roses. The table was lighted with pink shaded candles in silver candlesticks. The party colors, pink and white, were beautifully carried out in all the details.

The guests were first served with strawberries, white brick cream, each slice containing a pink heart and heart shaped individual cakes. On each plate was a tiny envelope, apparently a letter from Cupid, addressed to the guest, each containing a card bearing the words:

"Miss Katherine Davis
April the twenty-fourth."

Following this course came sandwiches, coffee, chocolate, rosettes, pommer de terre, and sallow mints.

Mrs. John Davis served the coffee, and Miss Joe Davis, of Lexington, poured the chocolate. Miss Davis received the congratulations of her young friends with becoming ease and grace. She was gowned in white chiffon over satin with pearl trimmings.

The party was given by Mrs. Davis for the circle of friends and schoolmates of Miss Davis, and they thoroughly enjoyed her graceful hospitality and the charming manner of announcing to them the happy secret, which had been so carefully guarded.

The guests present were Misses Mary Frances Brown, Virginia Moore, Erna Watson, Joe and Margaret Davis, Katherine Headley, Katherine Withers, Bella Withers and Martha Shanklin, all of Lexington, Katherine Davis, Nancy Griffith, Mary Woodford, Nannie Brent O'Neal, Carolyn Roseberry, Elizabeth Grutcher, Loraine Butler, Catherine Thurman, Elizabeth Jasper, Bess Holladay, Helen Frank, Kate Alexander, Rachel Wiggins, Elizabeth Embry, Elizabeth Steele, Allene Power, Mary Batterton, Belle Horton, Corinne Collins, Martha Ferguson, Mrs. William Ardery, Mrs. Wade Whitley, Mrs. William Ferguson, Mrs. Robert Ferguson, Mrs. Woodford Daniel, Mrs. Amos Turney, Mrs. Charles McMillan, Mrs. White Varden, Mrs. Carl Wimoth, Mrs. Virgil Gaiteskill.

Are You Nervous?

What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength.

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Grace Fortner, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I know it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women. Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist.

DAY OF TYPHOID PASSED.

Vaccine to Prevent Disease Is Received Here From National Government.

EFFECTIVENESS OF SCERUM

Tests Prove That Disease Can be Successfully Treated By New Method.

That typhoid fever can be wiped out of this community by the use of the new vaccine recently employed with remarkable success in the United States Army, is the belief of the many prominent physicians of Paris. "It is now largely your own fault," say these physicians, "if you die of typhoid fever."

In fact it became known yesterday through a local druggist that some of the anti-typhoid vaccine, as it is called, has already been received here, it being ordered from the National Vaccine and Antitoxin Institute of Washington. The vaccine, while it has produced results which compare favorably with smallpox vaccination, is entirely different from smallpox vaccine, and the manner of vaccination is much different.

The anti-typhoid vaccine which can only be administered by a regular practicing physician is given in three doses. Unlike smallpox vaccine it does not produce a sore. It is introduced beneath the skin of the arm by means of a hollow needle. The quantity introduced is small and it produces no more pain than a pin prick. Following each treatment there develops a very slight fever, the skin becomes flushed about the point where the vaccine was introduced. Sometimes the patient complains of headache. Many of those who have been vaccinated explain their symptoms after being treated as feeling like they had just taken a heavy cold. The vaccine is usually given at four o'clock in the afternoon, and such symptoms as develop usually pass off during the hours of sleep. Ordinarily the patient is ready for work the next day.

Out of the thousands of vaccinations performed in the United States Army, there has not developed a single serious after effect.

It seems a proven fact that this vaccine does protect absolutely from typhoid. In that portion of the Army vaccinated last year there was reported only one certain case of typhoid, five other very mild cases being classed as doubtful. There were no deaths from these cases. Among the unvaccinated troops during the same period there were four hundred and eighteen cases and thirty-two deaths.

A striking instance of the efficacy of the vaccine is shown by one company of engineers who attended the military maneuvers at Gettysburg. Of the hundred and eighteen members, ninety-two were vaccinated, two had previously had typhoid, the other twenty-four were unprotected. Typhoid fever broke out in camp. Six of the twenty-four who were not vaccinated developed the fever, not one of the others was affected.

During the recent mobilization of troops along the Mexican border all soldiers were given the new vaccine. There developed but one case of typhoid—a recruit who had not yet been vaccinated. It is claimed that this was the first military camp in the history of the world to escape this scourge. During the Spanish-American war there were over twenty thousand cases in an army of only one hundred and seven thousand men.

But the interesting part is not only in the results produced, but the wonderful manner in which the vaccine accomplishes its purpose. It has long been known to all that we have certain germ diseases such as smallpox, measles, scarlet fever, etc., but once. But it has only been in recent years that scientists have begun to understand the why of this phenomenon.

It seems that nature has the wonderful facility of producing for every germ introduced into the body several kinds of protective substances, which when developed rob the germs of their power and make them easy victims of the millions of little white blood corpuscles which eagerly gather them up and carry them out from the body. For each specific germ there are specific protective substances which act against this particular germ, but have no effect on other bacteria.

When one develops a disease a great battle begins raging within the body, and millions and millions of germs attack the system which in turn is defended by the white blood corpuscles or phagocytes, aided by the protective substances which are developed for the purpose of rendering the germs harmless and making them easy prey for the white blood corpuscles, and for neutralizing the poisons or toxins which are thrown off by the growing microbes. And so the battle continues; if enough of these protective substances are developed in time the germs are overcome, their poisons are neutralized and the patient recovers. If the germs themselves develop more rapidly than nature produces the protective substances the patient dies. But once a patient has recovered from one of these germ diseases there remains always in blood enough of these protective substances to render him free from future attacks of the same germ.

In typhoid fever two of these protective substances are now recognized under the name of agglutinin and poisons. The agglutinin once brought into contact with the typhoid germs paralyze them and destroy all their movements. The poisons in some manner not entirely understood so prepare the microbes that they can be taken more rapidly by the white blood cells.

These things have been proven by careful microscopic tests. The first process is called by physicians the Widal test, being named after its discoverer. This test consists of taking a small portion of the patient's blood and a live culture of typhoid germs. The two are thoroughly mixed in a test tube and allowed to stand. After a short space of time they are examined under the microscope. With the ordinary individual the typhoid germs will be rendered motionless by the

NOTES from MEADOWBROOK FARM By William Pitt

Keep a daily dairy record.
Poultry food should be palatable.
Tuberculosis of chickens cannot be cured.
Chaff for food is worth twice as much as straw.
The goslings are very hardy and require no coddling.
Poultry will never do well if infested with lice or mites.
You are safe to buy an old sire, but don't get him very fat.
Winter is the time to plan for improvements about the farm.
The horses should be given at least one feed of mixed hay once a day.
To fatten and fit up farm horse stock for sale is not a difficult task.
Scatter the manure as you haul it, don't put into little piles all over the land.
The flower garden is a thing of beauty and has a place on every farmstead.
Profitable beef production in the future means that better gains must be made.
Cows should be in prime condition at time of freshening. Therefore feed grain if necessary.
The first requirements for success with fall calves are clean, well ventilated and sunny pens.
The levelness with which a horse walks is one of the best evidences that his legs work in harmony.
On a small scale, vegetable seeds may be started in small boxes or flats, placed under the kitchen stove.
Never breed from a fowl, however fine, if it shows a tendency to be kind to disease germs or has any weaknesses.
Butter from fresh and properly ripened cream not over one day old keeps better than does butter made from sweet cream.
Every poultryman has his favorite breed and it would be foolish for him to desert it for some fowl that he did not care for.
The helper that is cared for and handled gently throughout her entire life will need little breaking in when it comes time to milk her.
Air slaked lime sprinkled on the floor under the roosts and on the dropping boards will help to keep the place healthy and the air pure.
At this day and time there are scores of breeds that are well suited to the needs of the farmer for both egg production and for market purposes.
If you did not save enough good seed for the farm crops, lose no time in getting enough to plant your crops. Get the best that can be had, regardless of the price.
It is not breeding alone that is going to determine the future usefulness of the cow, but it must be supported by liberal feeding, daily care and careful observation.
When you buy dairy cows remember that if you are buying from a dairyman who intends to continue in business the chances are that you are not getting the best that he has.
Fresh air, sunshine, and exercise are the best poultry tonics. But fresh air does not mean drafts in the houses, nor does sunshine call for exposure to hot suns during the summer.
Sheep, while generally hardy and robust, are extremely susceptible to attacks of disease which, although not always fatal, wear on the constitution and ultimately impair the usefulness of animals afflicted.
While there may be no greater nutrition in a certain feed added to a dairy cow's ration than in the food she has been accustomed to, still, it is a fact that a new food adds to the palatability of the ration which is nearly always healthful.
Some dairymen believe that if the feed of their cows is changed it will have a bad effect upon the milk flow, but repeated scientific experiments show that changing from one feed to another, and frequent additions to the regular feed helps the milk flow.

Every farmer needs a silo.
Are the cattle well housed and fed?
Keep the sheep healthy and vigorous.
Feed for egg production should be rich in protein.
You cannot get heavy egg laying without heavy feeding.
To improve the dairy herd, keep the best, and sell the rest.
Clover should be young to make pigs thrive at top notch.
Judge not a hen by her beauty, but by the way she does her duty.
Trap nests eliminate drones with accuracy from any flock of hens.
Food plays an important part in the growth and development of the colt.
Many young boars are ruined by being allowed to run in lots near the sows.
If you intend sowing clover or alfalfa this spring get your seed right away.
Clover is the greatest pasture for hogs—provided it is not allowed to mature.
The successful feeding of poultry is among the most difficult of feeding problems.
Most farmers have learned before this that it is expensive to haul green corn fodder.
Rape seed is cheap, it germinates strongly and furnishes plenty of palatable forage.
If a hog seems to be ailing, separate it from the herd at once and give watchful care.
One advantage in feeding steers on the farm is the maintenance of the soil fertility.
Deal gently with the cow of nervous temperament. She usually is one of the best in your herd.
If you get an incubator, assign the running of it to one person, and let him have sole charge.
A chill brought on by the udder coming in contact with frosty ground is apt to ruin your best cow.
Clean, dry bedding spread about thickly will make cold, hard floors more endurable these cold nights.
Sunflowers are just the thing to raise next season for the fowls but don't grow them for the sparrows.
The good dairy cow usually is wide in the forehead, the face dish between the eyes with a strong under jaw.
Never salt the horse's feed in the box. Place a big lump where he can reach it, and he will take it when he needs it.
The three essentials for a successful dairy cow are vigor, capacity for food and well-developed organs for milk production.
Goslings will thrive if fed on grass alone, but will not make such rapid growth, of course, as when they are given a little grain.
The cow must have a good breathing apparatus, indicated by a large nostril, wide breast and good width across the floor of the chest.
Never jump from the wagon when the horse is running away. More lives and limbs are lost in that way than by remaining in the wagon.
Until we raise all the hay we need for our stock, and have all the stock and all the manure we need, it will pay us to save the whole of the corn crop.
Feeding cattle gives not only a profit on the feed produced on the farm, but it supplies the farm with manure which is greatly desired in progressive farming.
Calves should not be turned out to pasture unless they have had a little green feed before, as it is liable to cause scours. Give all the fresh, clean water the calf will drink.
A daily record should be kept of each cow in the stable. In a year's time a dairyman will know by practical demonstration what cows are paying him and those that are not.
A few sweet apples or lumps of sugar is likely to prove much more effective than a whip in securing obedience from an intelligent, spirited highly bred colt, or even a mature animal of the horse kind.
Preventive measures in warding off sheep troubles not only eliminate tedious treatment, but sustain the physical state of the animals in the most natural and desirable condition for breeding purposes.
The setting hen must be protected from lice. She offers a splendid breeding place for these parasites, and unless something is done to check their growth in the nest the chickens will be hatched under serious handicap.

LUNGS KEPT INFLATED

SIMPLE APPARATUS THAT MAKES
HEART SURGERY POSSIBLE.

Operation Thoroughly Demonstrated
Before Kansas City Clinic—Shown to Have Passed the Experimental Stage.

A dog's life was sacrificed at the Coates House in Kansas City to show Kansas City surgeons and nearly a hundred others that heart surgery—the sewing up of stab wounds and the removal of bullets—is possible. Those present predicted after the demonstration that such practice would be common among surgeons within five years. After more than thirty years of work, during the entire period withstanding the bitter attacks of the anti-vivisectionists, Dr. F. Merrill Ricketts, of Cincinnati, and the other pioneers in the field, have perfected a system of administering anesthetics that makes heart surgery possible.

Dr. Ricketts, who gave the demonstration before the Western Surgical association, made his first experiment in 1874. Since then doctors connected with the Rockefeller Institute in New York have pushed the investigation also. Hundreds of animals have been sacrificed in the work, but since the experimental stage was passed the lives of 74 persons already have been saved, and yet only two or three surgeons in the United States have learned the operation.

Formerly the lungs of persons under an anesthetic collapsed, causing death, when the chest was opened by a surgeon. The apparatus used by Dr. Ricketts, consisting of little besides a bellows and a rubber tube, keeps the lungs inflated during the operation.

The anesthetic is administered in air forced into the lungs by the bellows used to keep up artificial respiration. The wonder of the method is to a great extent in its simplicity. Dr. Ricketts in 20 minutes was able to demonstrate to the eager surgeons the entire process of operation on the heart, the lungs and the other bronchial components.

"This development in surgery has passed the experimental stage," Dr. Ricketts said. "Already 178 operations on the heart have been performed, and of these 74 were successful, the patients recovering. This is a wonderful percentage, considering that death was certain otherwise in every case."

"Bullets were removed and knife wounds sewed up. Most of the operations were performed at the Rockefeller Institute. By this method of administering anesthetics the patient may be kept alive for hours, permitting the surgeon to perform any operation on the heart, the lungs or any other thoracic organ."

"The apparatus, very simple in itself and in its operation, is easily portable and may be taken by the surgeon anywhere. To a Dr. Williams, a negro, of Chicago, belongs the credit of performing the first successful operation on the heart as long ago as 1893. In a few years the practice will be common."

Sea Postoffices.

Every one is aware that a large quantity of mail comes from Europe; probably most persons assume that it is dumped off the steamers in bulk and sorted and routed in the postoffice of the receiving port. Such a system would result in hopeless congestion and practically all of the fifteen million pounds of foreign mail matter received at New York, on an average of recent years, is ready, sorted and sacked when the steamers make port. This work is done in the sea postoffices aboard the ships, and means days saved in the time of delivery of mail matter intended for inland points.

In the huge mass of mail brought into New York each year there are, on an average, 80,000,000 separate pieces, many thousands with inadequate addresses; yet to such a degree of efficiency has the operation of the sea postoffices been brought, and so carefully is the work done, that less than 500 errors are made annually. As the entire quantity of the ocean mail received in a year would fill 2,200 standard mail cars, an almost incredible accuracy is indicated—less than one error of any kind whatever for every four carloads of mail.—Harper's Weekly.

Expensive Luxury.

Richard Harding Davis, who knows South America intimately, told, at a luncheon at the Philadelphia club, a South American story.

"The Florida in Buenos Ayres," he said, "is very elegant and charming, but in the past the young men were too prone to accost the beautiful women shopping and promenading there."

"Accordingly, a law was passed which imposed a fine of $50 on any one who should dare to accost or annoy in the slightest degree any lady in Buenos Ayres."

Mr. Davis paused. "Since the passage of that law," he said solemnly, "the Florida has become quite safe; but when a beautiful woman walks in it the young men hover near her, murmuring in low and ardent tones:

"I wish I had $50."

His Business.

"I was in a place yesterday that employed a bouncer with the most appropriate name in the business. It was Vine."

"How is that so appropriate?"

"Because his principal occupation is to throw out a lot of suckers."

The City Council in regular meeting Wednesday night transacted but little business. After allowing a few accounts, a report was made from the committee showing the electric plant to be in excellent condition, the lights giving thorough satisfaction and being taken rapidly by private consumers. The committee was asked to make a flat rate for churches, lodges and other buildings where they were not used regularly. The question of purchasing a chemical fire engine was brought up and the Mayor is communicating with several concerns relative to this.

The recital given by the voice department of the M. F. C. at the auditorium Friday night was decidedly one of the best of the season. There are more girls in the institution this year with good voices than for many years past. The solos, duets, and choruses were well selected and equally well executed. The large audience in attendance braved the elements, every one seeming to expect something above the ordinary and they were not disappointed. "The Rosary" rendered by Mrs. Deering, brought forth a storm of applause and she responded to the encore. "May Morning" and "Serenade," rendered by Miss Barnes with violin obligato by Miss Nell, appealed to every lover of music in the house. Miss Barnes has an especially good voice and Miss Nell as a violinist is unexcelled in the amateur world. Her tones are pure, full of expression and feeling. The closing chorus of the recital was also one of the pleasing features of the occasion. The musical department of the college is certainly well equipped and the work of the pupils demonstrate most satisfactorily the ability of the teachers.

THEATRICAL.

"A ROYAL SLAVE" COMING.

The Daily Journal of Jacksonville, Ill., in its issue of January 31 says of "The Royal Slave" Company, which will appear at the Paris Grand on March 29:

"A Royal Slave" was greeted with a large and enthusiastic audience at the Grand last night, the three floors of the theater being well filled, in fact the largest house for a popular priced attraction this season. The audience was given a delightful surprise and a genuine dramatic treat. Too much cannot be said of the time tried and unique play. Manager Lubb kept his word with the public and gave the people of Jacksonville one of the best dramatic performances seen here in a long time. The company carries complete scenery for the five acts and eight scenes, as well as a clever acting cast. The wardrobe is a special feature, especially notable being the gowns worn by Miss Irene Solomon, which were imported from the Worth shops of Paris. Mr. Lubb has the distinction of being the first manager to present in this city an original imported 'Chantecler' costume, which was worn by Miss Ella Maimrose and made a decided hit. Mr. Walter Hubbell, an old favorite with Jacksonville theatre-goers, gave a most clever interpretation of the faithful old Indian, 'El Aguilla.'"

DANGERS OF PHOTOGRAPHING THE WORLD' DOING.

Perhaps at some time you may have stood on a street corner and breathlessly watched a man with a camera perched on the topmost girder of a skyscraper coolly taking a moving picture of the panoramic scenes hundreds of feet below him. Or you may have seen him at military maneuvers while a hundred horses thundered down upon him at breakneck speed. Possibly at still another time you may have seen the camera man at the most perilous turn of an automobile race course calmly photographing the roaring racers as they rushed on at sixty miles an hour, and your heart stood still until the dust cloud blew aside and showed you the pictorial news gatherer was still alive. You marveled that any human being would take such risks. But these risks are very much a part of the day's work for the staff photographers of Lyman H. Howe whose travel festival comes to the Paris Grand on Thursday, April 18. Mr. Howe and his staff are constantly watching the world, and very often, with an intuition born of experience they anticipate and prepare for many events before they occur. It is because of such preparation that the scenes of any given subject Mr. Howe presents are exceptionally complete. His organization is world wide and through it he photographs the news just as a great newspaper with its foreign correspondents write it. In nearly every big city the world over Mr. Howe has his representative—a man who is always alert and of proven resource and courage. In addition to them he has still others who are roaming ceaselessly over the entire globe, sighing, like Alexander, for more worlds to conquer, and, unlike Alexander, constantly finding them, as is indicated by the entirely new program which Mr. Howe will present.

The management of the Paris Grand after several weeks' effort last week succeeded in booking for the Grand "The Girl of My Dreams," conceded by everyone who has seen it to be the finest production of its kind ever seen in Kentucky. The company embraces sixty people, with John Hyams and Leila McIntyre, the original stars of the company. Besides being a mammoth and finished production, both scenically and artistically, a special orchestra of seven first class musicians is carried by the company. To secure this production it was necessary for the managers of the Grand to give them a large guarantee, trusting to a liberal patronage of the people of Paris and surrounding towns to enable them during next season to secure other shows of this magnitude. Information in regard to seats, etc., may be secured by calling up Mitchell & Blakemore. The date of this principal theatrical event in the history of Paris will be Thursday, April 4.

Sleep in Church, but Don't Snore.

An English preacher has invented a cure for snoring in church. It's a little mental contrivance that the disturber of a parson's peace of mind places in a position on his lips and nostrils, and the Rev. A. Allen Barrett, vicar of Claygate, England, who evolved the idea, says any sleeping churchgoer thus decorated can't let loose a single snore to disturb other worshippers in their bulky snooze every Sunday morning till it's time to get up from the pew for dinner.—New York Press.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES

—The holders of sheep claims in Fleming county will get one hundred cents on the dollar for the past year, and there will be a small amount left to turn into the school fund. There were returned for taxation last year 1,832 dogs. Of this number 245 were reported delinquent and unpaid making $1,587 collected. The total losses were $1,409.10 and the costs $111, leaving a balance of $66.90 for the school fund. The money to pay the claims has not yet arrived but when it does notice will be given.

—John H. Keyes, of Almo, western division manager; J. M. Coutts, of Springfield, Tenn., eastern division manager, and Felix G. Ewing, of Glen Raven, Tenn., general manager of the Planters' Protective Association, have returned to Paducah from New York, where they met with a number of foreign tobacco buyers. It is said that they have closed several large contracts.

—Mainleaf, the Montgomery county trotter, who was the hero of the Kentucky Futurity last year, will not be campaigned this year, but will be placed in the stud and go after the five year old race record in 1913.
